WORK OF THE FIRE FIEND

FIFE-STORY BUILDING BURNED,

Several Persons Injured, Some Fatsily-A Number of Girls Feared to be Lost.-A Falling Wall Came and Was Met,

New York, August 27.—The five-story brick building, No. 124 Wooster street, was burned to-day. Six persons were injured, two of them perhaps fatally, and it is believed that a number of girls employed in the building perished in the flames. How many have been lost cannot be ascertained until the firms occupying the burned structures call the rolls of their employes.

One fireman was caught under a falling wall and seriously injured. Three others wan and scriously injured. Three others went down under a mass of brick and mortar after the fire had been controlled.

The injured are: Morris Sack, fireman, Engine Company 27, skull fractured, left leg broken, injured internally: Thomas Winters, same company, crushed under a falling wall: W. D. Ferry, bruised about the head and body; Mary Gunnizzo, arms bally burned; Mary Ellen Hanley, burned about the head and body. Subsequently died from injuries: Jacob Lewesser, fireman Engine Company No. 33, badly injured died from injuries: Jacob Lewesser, fire-man Engine Company No. 33, bally injured about the head: William McGroey, fireman Engine Company No. 27, slightly injured; Fireman Hussey, same company, slightly injured. W. J. Goldmen, manufacturer of picture frames, occupied the first floor and basement of building. He employed eigh-teen persons, but they all got safely out. The second floor was occupied by M. Blum-stock, manufacturer of hats and caps. He employed a number of women and girls. employed a number of women and girls and it is thought they all got out.

The third, fourth and fifth were occupied by R. A. Wagner, who employed a number of women and girls, how many the police have not yet learned. If there is any loss of life it is probably among his employes. It is known that two of his women employes and a man were injured. The building on the southeast corner of Prince and Wooster streets adjoining the one in which the fire broke out also caught and was quickly gutted. All the occupants, however, got out safely. On the south of the building occupied by the firm of Belt, Butler & Co., dealers in furs, was another large fixestory building. It was numbered large five-story building. It was numbered 120 and 122 Wooster street. The two upper ors of this building were gutted.

POSSIBLE LOSS OF LIFE,

VERY NARBOW ESCAPE. When the flames were under control eight or ten firemen climbed the fire escape at 122 Wooster street, broke in the windows on the upper floors and soon had several streams of water flowing on the fire. A strong partition wall divided it from the building on the north. The firemen had been there but a short time when the wall went down, carrying with it several of the fire-men. Nearly all the firemen miraculously escaped with but slight injuries. The loss is estimated at $250,000 on the buildings and $150,000 on the contents, which was mostly covered by insurance.

ANOTHER PIRE. The Metropolitan Opera-house, one of the most magnificent and expensive of modern play-houses, occupying the entire block bounded by Broadway, Seventh aveblack bounded by Broadway, Seventh avenue, Thirty-ninth and Fortieth streets, in the short space of an hour this afternoon was ruined. The Broadway front was saved by the firemen, but fully three-quarters of the square was destroyed by the flames. Just where the fire started is yet unknown, but must have been in the vicinity of the stage, which backs on Seventh avenue. How the flames managed to get such headway without being discovered is also a problem that puzzles Chief Conner and his men.

One boy is known to have been injured. His name is Mans, and he was employed by Alfred Operti, a scenic artist who was using part of the Opera-House temporarily as a studio. The boy was hemmed in by the flames on the third floor, but he made his way to one of the windows on Thirty-minth street and from there is and down to the stormand from there leaved down to the storm-door shed on the ground floor. It is not believed he was seriously hurt. By 10 o'clock the fire was under control.

As an instance of how the Governor arrays class against class in his speeches the following is given: At Abbeville he told his followers that the opposition wanted to "ride you like beasts of burden:" that the merchants, the money power and the banks were making war against the people, and they believed they were a class above the "ragamuffins and one-gallus crowd that they want to put under their heels." It is an undisputed fact that Governor Tillman is one of the most powerful stump speakers in the United States. His language is the very opposite of chaste. It resembles that of Sam Jones, and is full of familiar and spicy slang. While discussing political matters his talk is robbed of much SHEEPSHEAD BAY RACE TRACK, August 27.-The great futurity race, worth in all $75,000, was won to-day, Morello proving the winner. The excitement was great when the youngsters came out for the big contest, and each was greated with applause, which became deafening when Morello slowly paraded by the stand, Billy Hayward holding the great colt steadily and looking very determined. It would have been hard to have selected a worse day. The weather was threatening and clammy, and the track was heavy.

Morello was a big favorite, Lady Violet second choice and Liderwood third. They second chefce and Liderwood third. They all made a beautiful start. Condition in Hamburg Unchanged-Strict Precaution Taken in London Against the Scourge-Russian Emigrants.

LONDON, August 27 .- The third of three persons afflicted with Asiatic cholera brought to Gravesend in the steamer Gemma, which strived on Thursday from Hamburg, is dead. There are no signs of the disease spreading.

At the port of Leith, near Edinburgh, which has extensive shipping communication with Hamburg and other ports on and near the North sea, a man and woman were taken sick last evening and developed symptoms of Asiatic cholera.

Thirty Russian emigrants bound for the United States arrived at Glasgow on Thursday by way of Hamburg, with the intention of taking passage from Glasgow to the United States.

The Disease in Berlin.

BEBLIN, August 27.—There is no doubt that Asiatic cholera is in Berlin. Three deaths are reported from what is undeni-ably Asiatic choicea of a virulent type. A lady while traveling from Hamburg was seized with choicea and taken to the hospital. While the authorities are enforcing the most rigid sanitary precautions they profess to be satisfied that the cholera will make no serious progress in Berlin.

NO CHANGE IN HAMBURG.

The Voesische Zeitung has a dispatch from Hamburg saying: "There is no apparent decrease in the cholera in spite of the cool weather. The disease has appeared on the islands in the Elbe. Hundreds of wealthy people have left the city. The dearth of doctors is severally felt. Several nurses have died. The school attendance has dwindled materially." AT BREMEN.

A dispatch from Bremen states the cholera has appeared at that port. The infection was brought from Hamburg. There have been four deaths thus far.

Death in Rotterdam. ROTTERDAM, August 27.—A woman died here of Asiatic cholera. The authorities are reticent as to the facts, but there is little doubt that it came by way of Hamburg.

MORLEY'S RE-ELECTION.

Tories and Radicals Both Sorely Disap-LONDON, August 27.—The election of Mr. Morley in Newcastle is a sore disappointment to the Tories and also to many Radicals, for both Tories and Radicals hoped by defeating Morley, to push home rule into the background. Ra as streng a man as could have been nominated against Morley, and he made an earnest canvass and a hard battle. On the other hand, the Irish voters of Newcastle, urged on by the Irish voters of Newcastie, urged on by the Irisa leaders in Parliament, devoted themselves with a zeal they had not before exhibited to securing Morley's re-election. Nearly every Irish Nationalist in Newcastle made himself a committee to obtain votes for Mr. Gladstone's chief secretary, and there is hardly a doubt that but for these efforts. Mr. Morley would have been defeated. Mr. Morley owes his re-election to Irish votes and Irish support, and will not be likely to forget this fact in his Irish office of secre-

LABBY'S ADVERTISING SCHEME. The attempt of Henry Labouchere to hold Queen Victoria responsible for keeping him out of the cabinet is generally looked upon as a smart advertising scheme. Labouchere has by his more or less genuine attitude of disappointment, menace and defiance managed to add immensely to the circulation of his weekly newspaper and to get himself talked, about from one get himself talked about from one end to the other of Great Britain. While Mr. Labouchere persists in spite of Gladstone's denial, in posing as a victim of monarchical animosity, the general public accept Mr. Gladstone's statement that he (Gladstone) was wholly responsible. It is said that Gladstone did not, want Labouchere in the cabinet, as the admission of Labouchere would have involved the resignation of Lord Houghton, Lord Spencer and Lord Kimberly, who object to the tactics which Labouchere has adopted towards the Prince of Wales and others of the royal household and of the nobility. Mr. Gladstone, it is said, never did like Labouchere, and has merely tolerated him because he did not care to offend a man with such a large radical following. In the present instance Mr. Gladstone had choose between Labouchere and the

A dispatch from Lievin, a mining town in the Department of Pasde-Calais, states that the troubles between the French and Belgian miners employed there have culminated in a very serious disturbance. The Frenchmen in a body attacked the dwellings occupied by the Belgians and smashed every window in them. The Belgians appealed to the gendarmes for help to protect their houses, but when the officers attempted to disperse the rioters the latter showed such an ugly disposition that it was such an ugly disposition that it was found necessary to call upon the troops to suppress the disorder. The Belgian miners have been advised to leave France in the event of further assaults being made upon them.

Henry Labouchere, in an answer to the letter in which Mr. Gladstone assum-ed all the blame for his exclusion from the Cabinet, says he appreciates the courtesy toward himself and the delicourtosy toward himself and the den-ency toward the Queen exhibited by Mr. Gladstone, but he is still forced to adhere to his belief that the Queen instigated Mr. Gladstone's course. To this Mr. Gladstone has responded, repeating the assertion that he is answerable in every way for the exclusion. He adds that it must not be sought to lay the blame anywhere else. This has called the expectation of the proanywhere else. This has called out another communication from Mr. Labouchere, in which h thanks Mr. Gladstone for his expression of kind personal feelings, but again hints that he has justification for adhering to his original view of the matter, seeing that Mr. Gladstone has not denied that the Queen meddled in the make-up of the Cabinet. Mr. Labouchere closes with wishing the new Government every success, but declaring that he is too good a Radical not to force as much as possible in the way of genuine reform out of the party in power.
